True Freedom

Of the many values Americans hold dear, the concept of freedom may be our most cherished. The very principle of freedom is embedded in our history. The pilgrims who migrated across the Atlantic to the shores of the New World were seeking a place to worship God in freedom. Most of us can quote by memory the impassioned words of Patrick Henry as he stood in the House of Burgesses in Williamsburg and said, "Is life so dear and peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I care not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death." The state motto of our neighbor to the north is just as bold, "Live Free or Die."

As Americans we breathe the air of freedom. Political freedom is a wonderful gift. It would be intolerable to us to live in another country where we could only speak or act at the permission of another. We have so much to be grateful for here.

While we enjoy the benefits that political freedom brings, such freedom is often misunderstood. We confuse liberty with license. We think that freedom gives us the right to do as we please. We assert personal autonomy above everything else.

So while political freedom is relished, it is insufficient. The worst kind of slavery is not economic, political, cultural or even physical - it is spiritual. Jesus teaches that all who sin are slaves to sin. Give someone political and economic freedom and they are slaves still. But give someone the gospel - the good news that we can be rightly related to God through Jesus Christ - and they will be forever free. It is that very freedom Jesus had in mind when He said, "If the Son makes you free, you will be free indeed!"

What is true freedom? Is it the right to do anything we want? Not at all. True freedom is the ability to do what is right because we have been set free in Christ. For Christians that's true freedom because doing what we ought to do has now become what we want to do. We are most free when we are most bound to Christ.

"The worst kind of slavery is not economic, political, cultural or even physical - it is spiritual."

Ray Stedman used to tell the story of how he was walking down a street in Los Angeles when he saw a man walking toward him with a sandwich board hung over his shoulders. On the front the sign read, "I am a slave for Christ." After the man passed by, Stedman looked over his shoulder to read the back of the sign. It read:

"Whose slave are you?"

WORSHIP NOTES

Ginger Millermon In Concert - July 9

We have a very special evening of praise and worship planned for Sunday evening, July 9. On that evening, nationally recognized songwriter and recording artist Ginger Millermon will be performing at Christ Chapel for our Sunday @ 6:00 service.

Ginger will share her life-changing testimony and music from her albums First Breath (Anoten Music 2002) and her latest album Picture of You, which includes inspirational "Top 40" songs "I Lift Up My Eyes," "All My Ways" and "Fountain of Life!"

Ginger was with us on a Wednesday night a few years ago. Those of us who heard her then were extremely blessed by both her singing and her incredible testimony that features a strong, pro-life message. Her presentation was one of the most worshipful evenings of Christian music I have ever spent.

Several years ago, Ginger and her husband Joel had twin boys, Brennan and Jarrott. They were premature and Jarrott spent more than a year in the hospital and his first few years of life on a ventilator. Nearly all of Jarrott's doctors gave up on him, saying he had no hope of survival.

"Trusting God suddenly became more than a cliché -- it became the only way for us to survive. I am reminded every day when I look at Jarrott, how faithful God is to us. Even recently, doctors from Johns Hopkins University just shook their heads in amazement and said, "There's no way this child should be alive today."

Through her contemplative music and testimony, Ginger shares the miraculous story of not only their son's remarkable medical journey, but also the changes and work God has done in their family through these trials. "I want to bring hope and encouragement by expressing through testimony and music how God has touched and healed my heart." Both Brennan and Jarrott will be traveling to Christ Chapel with Ginger and her husband Joel for our concert on July 9.

Ginger has spoken and performed for thousands in churches, women's conferences and events across the United States, and her music can be heard on hundreds of radio stations nationwide. She has an unforgettable message for today's culture and her soul-stirring music will inspire hearts and minds of all ages.

Our concert on July 9 is free and open to the public. A free-will offering will be received to assist Ginger with her travel expenses. Please plan to be with us on July 9 and, by all means, invite some friends. Following the concert, the Hospitality Committee is planning a time of refreshment and fellowship to allow us to enjoy each other's company and to meet our guests.

YOUTH NEWS

Summer Youth Ministry Events

As I am writing this month's edition of Proclaim, the summer is really just kicking off (June 14th for your information). I thought it would be good to inform the church of some of the highlights of our youth ministry this time of year. I've always said about the summer months, "it's still busy, just a different busy." Consider some of the activities and events and you will see what I mean.

Sr. High Breakfast Club, 9-10:30 a.m., Thursdays - Provides an opportunity for Sr. High to continue studying God's word together during the summer. A typical Breakfast Club involves hanging out, eating donuts, bagels, pastries, etc., and doing "would you rather" questions for about 40 minutes, and Bible study for around 50 minutes.

Jr. High Activity Nights - We start each night with a brief Bible devotion, and then head out for the night's activity. This summer we will go bowling (July 26th), play Frisbee Golf (August 9th), and go to Bass River Sports in Yarmouth (August 24th).

Jr./Sr. Pawtucket Red Sox Game, June 29th - It's always a fun night regardless of how much we end up watching the game.

Jr./Sr. Canobie Lake Park, July 12th - It's a short trip and the short lines compared to other amusement parks always makes for a fun filled day for our youth group.

Jr./Sr Water Country, August 16th - It's wet, it's wild, and it's a Christ Chapel youth group favorite.

Gearing up for a summer full of Godly fun!

Sr. High Starlight Homeless Ministries Night, August 23rd, 10 a.m. -10 p.m. - This is a very meaningful night serving the homeless of Boston. We serve them a meal, hand out clothes, we hang out and get to know them, and the night is closed with an impromptu worship service right on Boston Common. It's an amazing night of ministry. This day also includes training and prayer with the Starlight staff, as well as a good chunk of free time to enjoy shopping and meals in the city.

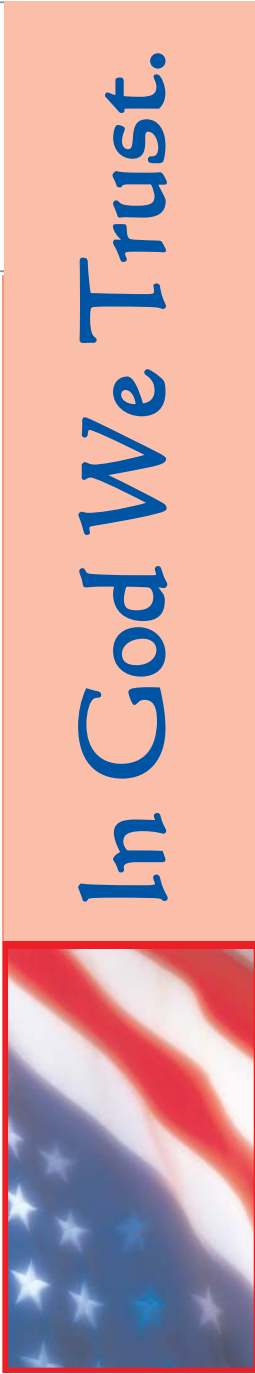

Anyone interested in learning more details about these events (times, cost, sign ups, etc.) can either talk to me personally or read about them on the Youth Board in the Fellowship Hall.

Of course there is one other major summer event for the Sr. High that I haven't mentioned, and that is CHIC (Covenant High in Christ), at the University of Tennessee from July 16th - 22nd. Stay tuned for the August issue of Proclaim to hear a full report.

COMING IN JULY

Y Fest 2006 - Jeff Deyo in Concert

Y Fest 2006 will bring Jeff Deyo, original lead singer of SONICFLOOD, to Sandwich High School Auditorium on Saturday, July 22 at 7 p.m. for an evening of worship geared towards youth. Shana Cassidy will open.

Jeff Deyo's music has one focus: pointing people to God through powerful worship. Since his SONICFLOOD days, Deyo has been well known for original worship songs like "I want to know you" to arrangements of songs like "I could sing of your love forever", "Something about that name", and "The heart of worship." Deyo and his new band are on their third worship album, staying committed to their ministry focus. Go to jeffdeyo.com for more about his ministry.

Please bring a friend to this event. God has used Deyo to impact the lives of thousands.

Tickets are available at the door (while they last), in person at MOCEAN in Mashpee Commons, online at yfest.org and at itickets.com, and by phone at itickets \(800-965-9324\)

The ministry of Y Fest

Y Fest is an evangelical outreach ministry founded in 2001 by one of the small groups at Christ Chapel. Y Fest incorporated as a 501(c)3, non-profit ministry in 2003 and has held 10 major outreach concerts at which over 12,000 people from Cape Cod and all over the world have heard the gospel of Jesus Christ clearly preached. Over 1,400 of those have indicated that they made a first time commitment or recommitment to Christ at Y Fest. Y Fest follows up on respondents by connecting them to the churches that invite them to Y Fest.

Y Fest hosts and promotes other local outreach events like the Annual Christmas Coffee Haus, the Detour Cafe, SMASH, youth rallies, and coffeehouse outreach ministries. Y Fest's motto is "All about outreach," and hopes to inject momentum into local church and youth group ministry.
